Grilling meats to the perfect internal temperature is easier than ever with the Hamilton Beach Set & Forget® Grill. The grill is equipped with a meat thermometer to monitor and digitally display the internal temperature of the meat as it cooks.

“The best way to grill meat and poultry is by using a food thermometer,” states Betty Byrne, consumer test kitchen manager for Hamilton Beach Brands. “Not only does it ensure the correct food temperature, it also gives you the flexibility to grill meat from rare to well done.”

The spacious 92 square-inch grilling surface can accommodate several cuts of meat, poultry, fish or vegetables. Its floating hinge can accommodate foods of any thickness, so they cook evenly and don’t get crushed. Cleanup is a cinch with the push of the button to release the dishwasher safe grids. A dishwasher safe drip tray to catch the grease is also included.

KEY FEATURES

Meat Thermometer – Grill meat to the perfect doneness with the digital meat thermometer that lets you grill from rare to well-done and digitally displays meat’s internal temperature as it cooks. When the meat is done, an audible tone alerts. When the meat thermometer is not in use, it stores easily in the handle.

Ease of Use – Dual cooking controls allow for grilling in either probe or manual mode. Probe mode displays meat’s internal temperature as it cooks. In manual mode, the grill can be used like a traditional grill by setting cooking time and grid temperature. An audible tone alerts you when food is ready in either mode.

Easy Cleanup with Removable Grids – The grids release with a push of a button and go in the dishwasher, along with the drip tray.
